The illustration shows two hands in profile, facing each other. The right hand is positioned above the left hand, with the index and middle fingers extended and touching. The thumb is tucked in, and the other fingers are curled. This is the standard hand configuration for the sign language letter 'a'.

he

The illustration shows a person's torso and hands. The hands are positioned in front of the chest, with the fingers and thumb forming a specific shape characteristic of the sign language word 'to'. The person has a neutral expression.
